PROFILE

I'm a fresh graduate from the Faculty of Psychology - Sanata Dharma University. As a graduate of psychology major, I'm able to use various psychological tests, such as cognitive tests, inventory tests, and projective tests. I got the mastery of the psychological tests from various practicum that I had undertaken and my experience from the internship program. Apart from that, I also mastered various interview and observation techniques through my experience from the internship program and various practical assignments that have been given during the lectures.
